The Farmer's Interests.

Says the Philadelphia Press: Three-fourths and a little over, of the crop year is now gone, and the United States, which grew three-quarter crops last year, begin to feel the pinch in prices. We fed the world last year. We have not this year more than enough to feed ourselves. If the demands of Europe were this year as great as those of 1880 or 1881, and the United States and England, which eat a quarter of the world's wheat, were bidding against each other for the diminishing stock of wheat, flour would be at war, not to say starvation, prices. As it is, steamers lying in New York harbor are paying people to fill them up with wheat, the call for wheat is so slack abroad; while the Chicago elevators grow emptier and emptier, so little wheat is there in this country. The chances are that supply and demand will have a close race in meeting the supply of this country alone, whose surplus enabled it a year ago to send abroad 175,000,000 bushels, but which this year, with the new crop three months off, has just about three months' wheat rations. Any accident, a May or June drought, or one in July to curl the corn, heavy rains at the wrong time, danger, or the serious threatening of danger, to new crops will drive food up to prices not registered for years in this country. As it is, the United States, which consumed in the last crop year 330,000,000 bushels, has no large margin this year, after starting with 430,000,000 bushels, all told, exporting 70,000,000 bushels of this year's crop and adding from all sources, over 2,000,000 to its consumers. It will surprise no one that a nation, running so close to its food margin, has in sight only half as much wheat and two-thirds as much corn as last year at this time.

In outline, this is the wheat outlook because it is the key to the present situation. The future is as secure as ever, and United States bonds, whose value rests not on this year's profits but upon the averaged resources of a century, rose still higher last week. So did bonds which partake of the character. But all railroad stocks whose value pivots on the national truck ruled lower. In a nation which sends nothing abroad but its crops, railroad receipts must depend on crops, and the most careless see, as the visible supply gets lower, that there is less to move. Purchases from abroad continue, sales to Europe are light, and gold would have gone abroad last week but for the fact that steamers were charging one cent to carry a bushel of grain across the Atlantic. This enabled the foreign buyers to pay the American price—since the distance was wiped out—and commercial bills eased off the demand for exchange. In all centres of distribution, the spring purchaser is still just around the corner, and the chief sign of activity is in speculative purchases of food—grain and pork. After working down through February, price in these articles has been steadily working up, with a break occasionally. One came Saturday; but the break will not stop the advance, which promises to make the next ninety days pinching ones for all to whom the current price of food is a vital matter. Manufacturing runs along on its momentum; but the course of the cotton market and the state of the coal trade show that no pressing demand exists.

All signs point to big crops this year and big crops means prosperity; but prudent men will note at this juncture that a great many manufacturers will hold up next fall until the November election decides how the tariff is to go the year after, that an export of gold grows more and more probable, that a very serious strain will fall on our currency next winter in the reorganization of National banks, unless congress does something, and that it is barely possible we may have next fall a great deal more wheat than we can sell.

Thus far the U. S. House has passed about three hundred and twenty bills, and the Senate has passed about three hundred. There have been introduced in the House this season six thousand bills, and in the Senate nearly eighteen hundred, irrespective of joint resolutions, &c.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.

Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling.

For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.

The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.

Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete 55 Cents.
Cardboard Fillers for refilling 20 Cents.
15 per cent. discount on lots of 100 cases.
Batchelder's Egg Tester, 1 string 6 doz. at once, saves to buyers many times its cost each season. Price $3.00.

By special arrangements made by the manufacturers of this case most Railroads will receive them as fourth class freight.

The 18 dozen case made especially for Farmers' use, sent to any address by express, with out nailing, with full directions for setting up, on receipt of 50 cents. Every Farmer and consumer should have one of these cases, it will save its cost every month. Agents wanted in every county. Address,
